

Infinite Silence - Self Realisation a Gathering in Grace A guide for organisers

If you are considering inviting me to have an event your area here are some helpful pointers to creating the right environment and attendance.

What are the events? They are focussed on Spiritual Self Realisation and involve experiential Infinite Silence meditation, Spiritual Inquiry, Infinite Touch (a blessing from the Silence) and sometimes witnessed experiences with me. Depending on location, sometimes the events are supported by the Harp and Flute Music of Tara and Ken Cook and, on two day events may include a sound bath in one of the sessions.

They are a truly Life Changing and Transforming opportunity and offer profound spiritual insight on bringing an end to suffering and the Realisation of who you really are. Often people experience huge shifts in awareness from attendance. My website provides a comprehensive ongoing and free resource that is continually added to and includes a private spiritual community for sharing, insight and more.

The sharing has reached world-wide with many events held in the UK and also in Crete (several), Corfu, Amsterdam and Iceland (twice). Awareness of the sharing is continuing to grow and that is one key area where organisers can really help by spreading the word.

The calling: The events are for those who truly feel called from their heart to their highest truth: Self Realisation, Life's Greatest Gift unto itSELF. This is a fundamental pre-requisite for any organiser or attendee.

The location and space: More or less anywhere in the UK and Ireland including Eire would be possible with enough notice and practical planning.

A space that is welcoming, ideally light and comfortable, with enough room for 20-30 (or more) people in a circle, facilities for making teas/coffees, where people can bring their own lunch, ideally good parking (dependent on location) and usually available for minimum two days for a weekend.

Duration: Typically a two day weekend Saturday and Sunday both days running from 1000 - 1700 with 30 minute breaks morning and afternoon and up to 1 hour for lunch. Weekday events are also possible as well as short experiences.

The Organisers Role: To source the venue, make all the practical arrangements, gather the attendees and see that funds raised meet costs and liaise with me. I do not make money from the events but it is important to ensure costs are covered so the message continues to spread worldwide. The events are also NOT about making money for organisers though it is important their costs should be covered. The events are meant to be accessible to all and no-one should miss out on the grounds of finance.

How can I help? A good place to start is a chat with me over Skype, fb messenger or phone to assist with planning and sharing the news etc. There is a comprehensive website at: www.gatewaylocation.org and all events will be listed on that as well as on facebook and sent to an existing mailing list.

Bookings can be totally managed by the organiser, or supported using my site or a combination thereof but the responsibility for costs rests with the organisers.

You can see the current event pages and videos including a free guided meditation at: www.gatewaylocation.org/events/

Blessings in Infinite Silence, Philip, Updated June 2018

email: intention@gatewaylocation.org; Mob: 07836 366 400